The Man Kzin Wars 1

Once upon a time, in the earliest days of interplanetary exploration, an unarmed human vessel was set upon by a warship from the planet Kzin. But the Kzinti learned the hard way that the reason humanity had given up war was that they were so very, very good at it. Thus began the Man-Kzin Wars.

The Man-Kzin Wars (Man-Kzin Wars, #1) by Larry Niven

The Man-Kzin Wars is a series of military science fiction short story collections (and is the name of the first collection), as well as the eponymous conflicts between mankind and the Kzinti that they detail. They are set in Larry Niven's Known Space universe; however, Niven himself has only written a small number of the stories.

This is a set of short stories by Larry Niven and his friends about, you guessed it, the man-kzin wars. The first story covers the First Contact between Man and Kzin, and exemplifies the general weakness of all the stories where unarmed, pacifist humans rout the bone-headed, over-aggressive and heavily armed Kzin.

The Man-kzin Wars: Niven, Larry, Anderson, Poul, Ing, Dean ...

The Man-Kzin Wars refer to a series of interstellar conflicts between Humans and Kzinti, including four wars and many major incidents, spanning 300 years from the mid-24th to the mid-27th centuries. With the help of Puppeteer intervention leading to the sale of a faster-than-light drive to humans by the Outsiders, all wars were won by the humans.

Man-Kzin Wars Series by Larry Niven - Goodreads

The Kzinti are a fictional, very warlike and bloodthirsty race of cat-like aliens in Larry Niven's Known Space series. The Kzinti were initially introduced in Niven's story "The Warriors" and "The Soft Weapon", collected in Neutron Star. A Kzin character, Speaker-to-Animals, subsequently played a major role in Niven's Hugo and Nebula award-winning Ringworld and Ringworld Engineers, giving considerably more background of the Kzinti and their interactions with human civilizations. Following Ringwo
